Dear Mr. Miller:

During times of momentous change in the world around us, some of life's most significant changes are occurring quietly in our own families, without our notice. The faces and frames of our children and loved ones are being transformed every day in ways so subtle that before we think to capture them on film, the opportunity is gone.

Gittings studios are dedicated to the art of fine portrait photography. Since 1928, when Paul Gittings founded the company, we've been creating portraits whose beauty rivals paintings by the Old Masters. Presidents, princes, luminaries, top executives and Houston's most elite families have trusted us to create exceptional portraits that will endure for generations. A Gittings portrait is an asset in every sense of the word. A sound investment with inherent value. A legacy for an heir.

I'm writing with an offer for you to join the many distinguished patrons who have chosen Gittings to photograph them in the moment. The enclosed certificate may be redeemed at our Dallas, Fort Worth or Houston studio for the purchase of a portrait of any size. I invite you to review our brochure and website and then call our office to schedule a consultation with one of our photographers.

Now is the time to consider purchasing a Gittings portrait of your family or loved one. It's an investment that assures a deeply satisfying return.

Sincerely,

Greg Lorfing, President
