

“The Baker Institute
is an incredible gift
to Houston.”

Betty Adkins-Gilliam
Roundtable Colleague

HOW DO YOU STAY INFORMED?

Who do you turn to for the most current information about the most pressing issues of our time – the issues that inspire discussions, spark debates and initiate meaningful social change? What if you could listen in as the scholars and thought leaders who advise policymakers shared their ideas?

You can.

The Baker Institute Roundtable is a premier membership forum that gives the community access to the inquiry and discovery taking place at one of the world’s leading think tanks. Roundtable members are invited to exclusive programs that address key political and social issues and offer opportunities to connect with statesmen, scholars and others who share their passion.

Great minds gather at the Baker Institute.

Join the Roundtable and add your voice to the conversations that are shaping our country and changing our world.

THE BAKER INSTITUTE

... has gained international respect as a preeminent, nonpartisan think tank by producing research and policy recommendations related to society's most pressing issues. The institute invites its fellows and scholars as well as experts from academia, government, business and private organizations to explore complex issues and propose policy recommendations to lawmakers and decision-makers on the local, national and international level.

CENTERS AND PROGRAMS

Center for Energy Studies
Center for the Middle East
Mexico Center
China Studies
Drug Policy
Health Policy Forum
International Economics
Latin America Initiative
Politics and Elections
Religion and Public Policy
Science and Technology Policy
Space Policy
Tax and Expenditure Policy

think tank (noun):

a body of experts providing advice and ideas on specific political or economic problems; an institute, corporation or group organized for interdisciplinary research.

THE ROUNDTABLE EMERGING LEADERS AND ASSOCIATE ROUNDTABLE

... are the premier membership groups for professionals under 45 who are interested in the defining issues of our time. Join others who share your passion for public policy at member programs, luncheons, happy hours and other exclusive events. Each level of membership offers unique opportunities to network with scholars, industry leaders and peers.

“Attending the Baker Institute’s many interesting and stimulating events has not only enhanced my personal knowledge but has helped me professionally as well. Policymakers and the business community frequently face overlapping issues, and being educated about conflicts, new trends and new ideas is always an asset.”

Molly Ward
Roundtable Colleague

